Final Proposal

1. The first game idea I have is creating a platformer I called "Galactic Adventure"; this will be similar to a game called "Velocity 2X". In this game you play as a galactic warrior who was sent on a mission by the Galactic Nation to stop an evil alien empire called the "Zenon" from conquering the entire Galaxy. The Zenon wants to use an ancient alien artifact to control both space and time, you are the only one that can stop them. You will be able to shoot different types of lasers from your ray gun and you will receive stronger weapons as you progress through the game. You will also have a hover ability to help you platform along with limited power-ups.

2. My second game is a maze-like platformer similar to a game called "Death Maze Challenge" which I will call "AMAZING!". The story for this game is that you & your childhood boyfriend decided to go to a party one night, before an evil demon from another dimension swoops in & grabs your boyfriend. You follow the demon through her portal only to be lost in her massive maze. It is up to you to try to figure out how to get out of this maze and save your boyfriend so you guys can finish your date. In this game you will have to push objects hide from enemies and use a flashlight to help you defeat enemies and see in the dark.

3. My third game is a platformer called "Gravamania" which will similar to a game called "Gravity Heroes Escape". In this game humanity has succeeded creating artificial intelligence that could control the flow of gravity in the Universe, but they didn't count on the AIs rebelling against them. Now humanity is on the brink of collapse. It is up to you a new warrior part man, part machine who must stop this rebellion using your incredible gravity defining powers. In this game you will be able to control platforms using your gravity powers as well as use them to defeat enemies. Power-ups will allow you to use stronger versions of your powers to defeat the machine overlords.
